CHARTER ELECTION.

It will be seen by the proceedings of the Common Council yesterday afternoon, that the notices for the first City election, to be held under the New Charter, have been directed to be given, and that this election will take place on the first Tuesday in March, one week from Tuesday next.—The time is close at hand and the movements among the aspirants to office yesterday showed plainly enough that they were fully alive to the importance of making the most of what few days will intervene between this and election. The considerations which should induce our citizens to make choice of the best men for Charter Officers derive additional force from the circumstance that upon those now about to be selected will devolve the responsible duty of putting the new City Government in motion and closing up the affairs and accounts of the old. We hope to see men elected to these important trusts in whose honesty, capacity and efficiency the public can place implicit confidence.

From Madison.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Madison, Feb. 17, '52.

I am surprised to see that the Sheboygan Lake Journal, with a total disregard of truth and self-respect, indulges in wanton attacks upon the character of this Legislature. I believe its specific charges are that the time thus far has been spent in "making foolish charges against the ex-State Officers, slandering the Supreme Bench, attending the theatre, and drinking whiskey." These charges are as disgraceful in their tone and language, as they are untrue in fact. Charges against the ex-officers have been made, but not by this Legislature. They are made by members of their own party, and an opportunity has been given the officers to vindicate themselves. Charges have been made against the "Supreme Bench," but they are made by a leading Democrat, and have slept on the table of members for a fortnight and more. As for the other grave charges, no one, who knows anything at all of the members of this Legislature, but knows too that they are a head and shoulders above any other legislative body that ever assembled here, in honesty, industry, sobriety, and devotion to business. But one fault can be found with them—that they do too much; i.e. —there is too much local and special legislation. In thus making comparisons between this legislature and other bodies which have assembled here, I beg leave always to except the first constitutional Convention, that righteous, pure, sober, upright, patriotic body which annually perpetuates the memory of its existence in this place.

The mere daily record of the work done by this Legislature is a sufficient answer to all abuse by any body, or any paper.

An important subject—that of the repeal of the law which allows a deduction of debts in making up assessments of personal property—underwent some discussion this morning. There is a strong feeling—I do not yet know how general it is—that great injustice is done to individuals, and to the interests of the whole state by the liberties taken under the act. I believe full justice will never be done to all classes of our citizens relative to taxation, until an oath is administered by assessors, indiscriminately, to all whose property is to be taxed, and the penalties for perjury are enforced against offenders under the law. No definite action was taken upon the bill referred to.

The report of the Board of Works is undergoing an examination by members. There are certain discrepancies therein which puzzle mathematicians terribly. Thus, for instance, the Tabulin Statement states that $53,969 46 have been paid out in cash and warrants in 1851. The amount of Warrants drawn on the Treasurer during the the year was $44,010 74, while the Treasurer reports that he has paid out in cash $12,811 94.—In the Tabular Statement there is nothing said about any expenses of the dredge-boat, yet the acting Commissioner reports that $5,638 76 was really expended in its operations. Beside this, which the authors of the report may probably explain, it has been discovered that an error has occurred as to certain of the warrants issued. How the account happened to balance with these errors existing in it, I don't know.

Has any one seen the form of the scrip issued to Mr. Martin, in your quarter of the State?—They are said to be handsomely got up, graced with a vignette of Ex-Gov. Dewey, headed—"STATE OF WISCONSIN—12 per cent stock," with coupons attached, being orders for a year's interest, and drawn by Gov. Dewey on the State. A batch of them, I understand, has been presented to Gov. Farwell for his signature, but he declines giving it.

The Senate yesterday altered the joint resolution of instruction to the apportionment committee, passed by the House, so as to give a Senate of 25 members, and a House of 75. The House this morning voted to concur in the Senate's amendment—so that will be the ratio, if we have any apportionment at all.

The House spent about $75 this morning in debating the question of paying Mr. Hammett $70 as his expenses in contesting his seat. It would be an excellent suggestion which some good angel might whisper in the ears of members, that a two minutes' speech, well digested and coherent, on these small appropriation bills, (supposing any speech at all to be necessary,) is a good deal cheaper and more satisfactory than one, or a dozen occupying a half hour each, and sometimes rambling the wide world over.

The Governor sent in another veto this morning, taking the same objections to the bills amending the charter of the Green Bay, Milwaukee, and Chicago R. R. Co., which were made to the R. R. V. U. R. R. bill, as far as they apply; the particular ones being that the title does not express the objects of the bill, and that it proposes alterations of the charter, without the consent of the original corporators. I think that, after a while, our legislative bodies will get out of the habit of loose legislation acquired in the course of years.

The Senate passed a resolution calling upon the Attorney General for an opinion relative to the constitutional points in the two railroad vetoes.

SPEAKING EVIL OF DIGNITIES.—The Commercial is exceeding wroth at the Sentinel for our brief mention of the unpleasant fact that the democracy of Milwaukee, at their meeting last Saturday night, threw Judge BRYAN overboard. If its anger is excited against us, for merely stating this, judge how intense must be its indignation against the stiff-necked "democracy" of our city, for doing it!

The Commercial informs us that the Judge "has not been connected with any press" for some months, and does him the simple justice to say that he is "not responsible for the blunders" of that paper. That is taking a heavy load from his shoulders.

SALE OF THE CUNARD STEAMER ARABIA.—Letters from Europe announce the sale of the new Cunard Steamer Arabia to the West India Mail Co., to supply the place of the ill-fated Amazon. It is likely the Asia will also be sold.

☞ The Sentinel, after having denied its own statements, original and adopted, and being pressed into a small corner, now reaffirms them. —Free Democrat.

Still false! The Sentinel has not "denied" nor "re-affirmed" a single one of the "statements" imputed to it by the Free Democrat.

The truth is not to be supplanted by ever so great a quantity of brass.—Free Democrat.

We rejoice that the Free Democrat has made this discovery, and hope to see it henceforth eschew "brass" and stick to the truth.

INTERVENTION IN THE "RURAL DISTRICTS."—A correspondent of the Waukesha Democrat, writing from Fort Ann, New York, discourses as follows about Kossuth and intervention:

Kossuth and his mission continue to be absorbing topics of conversation. The people of the country fully sympathized with those of the city in the mighty shout of welcome which greeted the noble Magyar as he landed on our shores.—But the quiet old farmers, unused to the popular commotions of the city, are not easily led away into any furore of excitement, but think and act for themselves. As far as my observation extends, the greater part are strenuously opposed to all intervention in European affairs. They cordially welcome Kossuth, and wish him success in his noble endeavors to liberate his country but deprecate any manifestation on the part of the government likely to involve us in a war with any European power.

WISCONSIN SABBATH SCHOOL UNION.—The fifth annual meeting of this Society was held at Beaver Dam on Tuesday, Feb. 10th, when the following officers were elected for the year:

For President—Wm. H. Byron, Milwaukee.

Vice Presidents—C. H. Beach, Mineral Point; J. J. Vankirk, Janesville; J. D. Sanburn, Neenah; Wm. Martin, Beloit; P. Warner, Beaver Dam; J. Wheeler, Prairieville; W. Langdon, Platteville; M. Vilas, Racine; I. James, Johnstown; K. Gillet, Fond du Lac; D. Brown, Sheboygan: R. H. Denning, Southport; C. G. McCulloch, Fort Winnebago; J. Harris, Farmington; Amzi Silsbee, Columbus; Manly Newark, Washington county.

Secretary and Treasurer—O. G. Hillard, Milwaukee.

Executive Committee—S. Chapman, E. Cramer, C. Gifford, all of Milwaukee.

"HURRYING UP."—The Chicago Journal of Tuesday thus speaks of the time now made, by the teams which transport the passengers, mails and express, between the terminus of the Michigan Railroad and Chicago:

Such is the speed with which the Mails are brought into town from the present termination of the Southern Michigan Road by Butler & Lewis' fast line, that the Locomotive, upon the completion of the road, must make an extra snort, or it will lose its reputation for distancing flesh and blood.

The excitement to-day was at its highest pitch, Messrs. Butler & Lewis carrying the Mail, and Frink & Co., the Express freight. Several hundred were present along State street to witness the "coming in." Messrs. Butler & Lewis arrived at 15 minutes before 11 with the mail, trotting the whole distance—12½ miles, without a horse breaking, in 43 minutes; and is at the rate of 17½ miles an hour, or an average of a mile in 3.26.4.

This is Locomotive time.

WANTED!—From 500 to 1,000 able-bodied men and reliable voters, to fill the chinks in the recently formed "Democratic Association." The offices are already provided for, but there are wide gaps in the ranks which must be "closed up" before election. Terms easy, and "steady employment" given—till after election. For further particulars, apply to any of the Officers, present or prospective.

NOT DROWNED.—Gen. O. Hinton, the gentlemanly Ohio mail-robber, who was drowned in the Muskingum river a year ago, was taken by some humane persons to Sacramento City, Cala., & brought to. He was lately seen there by a correspondent of the Zanesville Courier. The General is still antiquidated.

PROSPECT FOR PEACHES.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Feb. 10, says that the peach crop is cut off in that region, by the severe cold weather of December and January.

NO TELEGRAPH REPORTS.—The Telegraph lines, East and West, were down last night, and we are consequently without any later advices from Madison, or New York.

WELL DONE.—We are happy to learn that the sub-cription in aid of the Joiners, who lost their all by the destruction of Young's Block, on Sunday night last, already reaches a sum sufficient to make up a good share of the loss. This speaks well for the liberality of our citizens.

THE ASSAULT ON MR. KENNEDY.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier & Enquirer, gives the following account of Senator BORLAND's brutal and unprovoked attack upon MR. KENNEDY, of the Census Bureau:

"The assault of Senator Borland on Mr. Kennedy, head of the Census Bureau, in the Senate Chamber, on Thursday afternoon, was one of the most brutal and unprovoked outrages ever committed. It is understood the fact is as follows; Mr. Kennedy was waiting in the Senate Chamber to speak with Senator Pearce, after the adjournment. Mr. P. being temporarily engaged, Mr. Kennedy, without premeditation, accosted Borland, and offered some explanations designed to remove objections cited in the debate of the morning, by Borland, to the medical statistics collected in the census tables. Borland replied with a complaint of dictation. Mr. K. made an attempt to conciliate him, which was rudely repelled, and Mr. Borland added, 'that when he wanted information or instruction from Mr. Kennedy he would ask for it.' Mr. Kennedy concluded the conversation with the remark that those who most needed information were sometimes the last to seek for it. He turned away, and while not observing Borland's movements, that person rose from his seat and dealt him a blow which inflicted a severe wound, and will probably mutilate his face forever. The nose is very badly broken, and the face much bruised. I have been thus particular to show of what material a United States Senator may now consist. After his adversary had been disabled in this manner, the mild and gentlemanly Senator, Borland, vociferated that if they would let him get at him, he would cut the d——d rascal's throat! It is not to be presumed that conduct so injurious and ruffianly as this, will be suffered to pass without any further notice."

A PECULIAR PEOPLE.—The following resolutions were passed at a Kossuth meeting, which took place at Carlisle, Ill., Jan. 9.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the freedom of down-trodden Hungary, of down-trodden Ireland, of down-trodden Germany, of down-trodden Poland, and also the freedom of the "rest of mankind."

2. If Russia does not respect the inalienable rights of the Magyars, England those of the Irish, and France those of "the rest of mankind," we are for intervention, if politic, and if not politic, then we are for non-intervention; that if the overgrown powers of Europe don't respect freedom, we will make them do it if we can, and if we can't we won't.

3. We sincerely sympathise with Gov. Kossuth and his compatriots, and tender to him and his suite the hospitalities of our Town and County, and assure them if they may favor our call, we will give them a hearty welcome, and the tallest and most substantial reception it is possible for us to give.

3. The President and Secretary shall sign the foregoing officially, and request the papers friendly to freedom throughout the world, to copy the foregoing; and the Secretary shall write a letter of invitation to Governor Kossuth to visit our Town, and send him a copy of resolution three above.

Which being read and unanimously adopted, was signed by

ELIAS S. DENNIS, Ch'n.
R. S. BOND, Sec'y.

THE WINE TRADE.—I have spoken of the severe measures which are to be taken in regard to the retail dealers in wine throughout the French territory, for the double purpose of decreasing their number and putting a stop to adulteration. Such a step was urgently called for in Paris. There are 6000 liquor sellers in the city, who are forced by competition, in order to sustain themselves, both to water and drug their wines. It is impossible for the 6000 dealers to sell pure wine and live.—Their number will be reduced to about 2000, and then any one detected in falsifying his liquors will be transported without more ado.

About 22,000,000 gallons of wine are annually brought into this city, and pay an entrance duty; yet, more than 33,000,000 gallons are annually sold, thus showing that 11,000,000 are taken from the Seine every year. The consumers are thus abused, and the revenue is defrauded out of one-third of the whole annual city consumption of wine. The inevitable effect of the decree of the 29th of Dec., will be to close two-thirds of the liquor shops of Paris. The remaining third will be amply able to supply the demand; and it will be easy for them to give wholesome wine to their customers, and to get from them a remunerating price.—Paris Cor. N. Y. Express.

Circuit Court.

February, 19, 1852.

This case was commenced yesterday morning, and given to the Jury at 7 o'clock p. m., with instructions to bring in a sealed verdict at the opening of the Court this morning if they could agree. The Jury returned into Court this morning with a verdict for pl'ff—$403, besides costs. Brown & Ogden for pl'ff—J. E. Arnold for def't.

James B. Martin vs. Aetna Insurance Company. This is an action brought by Mr. Martin upon a policy of Insurance issued to him by def't upon Martin's Block in this City, which block was injured by the burning of the adjoining buildings. The defence is, that the policy upon which suit is brought was only intended to cover what is termed "a Carpenter's risk,"—that is, an internal risk. Jury empannelled at 9 a. m. Trial not yet concluded. Emmons & Van Dyke for pl'ff—Finch & Lynde for def't.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—We understand that at the Meeting of the Engineers, Foremen and Assistants of the Fire Department, held yesterday afternoon, it was unanimously resolved to turn out in full uniform, on the evening of the arrival of our expected guests from Madison, and receive them with a grand Torch-light Procession.

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION.—The Directors of the Young Mens Association have procured new rooms, in the brick block on the North-East corner of Wisconsin and East Water-st; entrance next door East of KIRBY's. The furniture, library, &c., have all been removed thither, and the rooms will be shortly ready for occupancy.

UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE.—This excellent Institution, which was turned out of house and home by the burning of Young's Block, has obtained temporary quarters on the West side of the River, in Plankinton's Block, adjoining the American House. The Second Term will commence, in these new quarters, on Monday next. See advertisement.

THE LADIES' FESTIVAL.—All who feel an interest in the cause of Education will be on hand this evening, at the Ladies' Festival, for the benefit of the Female High School and Normal Institute. ☞ The Literary Adelphi will meet as usual this evening in the Hall of the Milwaukee Collegiate Institute. The subject of the last meeting —the practical nature of Intervention, will be again discussed.

THE MAINE LIQUOR LAW.

This "model" Temperance Law is now before the Legislatures of this State, New York, Indiana and Massachusetts, and in each a very strong effort will be made to pass it. Petitions by the score are daily presented at Madison in favor of the law, while not a few remonstrances have been sent in against it. The public mind is beginning to be widely and deeply exercised on the subject, and it is already apparent that very great diversity of opinion prevails both as to the principle and the policy of such a law. It is mainly advocated and defended on the ground that it will effectually stop the sale and consumption of Liquor, and thus cure the great and acknowledged evil of Intemperance. It is resisted, on the other hand, as a violation of private rights, and a restriction of individual liberty, and as inconsistent with the spirit and genius of American laws and institutions.

We have already taken occasion to express our serious doubts as to the wisdom of passing such a law in this State at the present time, and while we are entirely willing to concede the best of motives to those who advocate it, we must be permitted to dissent from the opinion, so confidently expressed by them, that the measure is just in principle, or expedient in practice. We find in the New York Courier and Enquirer of Wednesday last an article on this subject, embodying views which we think well-entitled to the dispassionate consideration of our own readers, and accordingly copy and commend them to their attentive perusal:

The provisions of the Maine Liquor Law are now before the Legislature of a number of the States, and in some instances, with every probability of being adopted. A measure, essentially the same, is pending in our own Assembly, sustained by two hundred and forty thousand petitioners, out of an adult population of six hundred thousand in the State. We are asked "on what ground can the law be advocated?" This is a question embracing a great variety of points. The advocates of the act claim for it support on the score of its moral tendencies. The opponents of the law, while admitting that it possesses commendable virtues, deny its entire expediency, and oppose it for what they assume to be its unconstitutional features. The issue, therefore, is one of moral coercion for the welfare of society, against the accumulated considerations of legality, agricultural enterprise, commercial discrimination, and the infringement of other social privileges.

The law, we are told, was hastily framed, and still more hurriedly passed through the general Assembly of Maine at a time when that body was about to adjourn, and the thousands who will press its enactment upon the Legislature of our own State, how many have critically examined its provisions? The first section prohibits the sale or manufacture of all manner of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, except as provided for by the second section, which restricts the manufacture of the article altogether, but allows the sale of liquors for medical purposes, under the exclusive jurisdiction of an agent, whom the authorities of the several wards of the State are to appoint to office. On the report of these agents must the business of the pharmaceutist and the experience of the physician depend. A person, totally unacquainted with medicine, may, in the exercise of this vested authority, close the door of any druggist or apothecary in the State, against the sale of alcoholic preparations, and the physician can only send his recipes to such establishments as, by favor, or otherwise, the agent is led to designate. Again, compounds are sent out by venders of patent medicines, which contain spirituous and intoxicating mixtures, such as are clearly within the meaning of the law; and therefore, unless specially empowered by the agent, the sale of these preparations are in direct conflict with the law.

We may go further, and question the acumen and character of this agent. He may be ignorant of the kinds of liquors which are adapted to medical purposes, and from his decision there is no appeal, either by the pharmaceutist or regularly bred physician. On this score, a question might be raised whether a State can create such a distinction among the civil rights of a community as that of depriving one man of a privilege which the law grants to another. And the act is equally inconsistent in prohibiting the manufacture of an article, while it permits its sale by an agent of its own empowering. These are a few of the objections which are suggested to us by the reading of sections first and second of the enactment.

But we pass on to a succeeding section, which strikes at once at the focus of all liberty—the inviolability of the domestic hearth. The law, at the outset, invites a system of espionage which is repugnant to our free institutions. It holds out every encouragement for the base to injure the weak and innocent, and even deprives the latter of redress. Such a power as the framers of the act have here exercised, should be viewed with caution and distrust. At any moment, the myrmidons of law, at the beck of the envious, may penetrate into the sanctuary of a home, and thus establish over the timid a complete reign of terror. The guarantees of the Constitution seem in this respect to be overlooked; and those who ask for the enactment in our own State, contribute in removing those guards from about a domicil which the dispensers of earlier forms of law were careful to provide. Finally, even when liquors are seized, and doubts are implied or entertained of their domestic or foreign origin, and should they prove to have been imported, according to the United States laws, the owner is not secure against their destruction, neither can he recover for their ruin or waste. The officer may, with an axe or hammer, break in the head of a cask; and should subsequent developments substantiate the fact, that the liquor was duly imported and contained in original bulk, the violator is safe from prosecution, and the owner must bear his loss without a murmur. He is denied the right of appeal; and is never safe from the designs of those who seek constantly his injury.

We have, in the foregoing remarks, confined our selves to specific features in the act, and to those principally which have a prejudicial bearing upon certain relations in society. When we come to consider the material influences of the law, in its operations upon agricultural, financial, and commercial prosperity, our views and objections take a wider range. "An inhibition so sweeping," we wrote in our article of Friday last, "will do much towards crippling new States in the West, and of shutting up establishments of industry in the old. The surplus grain grown in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and other great wheat, rye, and corn States, that cannot find a home or foreign market, is sent, large portions of it, to the distilleries; and thus the interests of the Agriculturist, the proprietor of the mills, the domestic and importing liquor merchant, and the day laborer, all find employment for their time and means, and the community derive a corresponding benefit: but if once, by legislative enactment, the manufacture of liquor is disallowed, so much capital is diverted to other uses, the farmer is compelled to emigrate to other sections, where he may enjoy the privilege of disposing of his grain for what purpose he pleases, the day laborer is thrown out of employment, and a marketable commodity, which we export abroad in exchange for merchandize purchased, must be exchanged for the precious metals." And these views we endorse and confirm. We are not in a condition as a people to endure crippling to this extent, neither do we believe in the policy of exacting loyalty to a measure from the masses, who, while admiring the principle on which it is based, do not take the initiatory precaution to examine, before they recommend, its adoption.

ALBANY SLEIGHS.—An Albany correspondent of the N. Y. Express, under date of February 1st, writes as follows:

We have been favored here with a snow storm since yesterday morning, that has added about a foot to the quantity with which the ground was previously covered, and which, when packed, will make fine sleighing. Albany is celebrated for its fine sleighs, which are unsurpassed in any other portion of the world; and sleigh-riding is carried to a degree of perfection here, unknown elsewhere. It is not uncommon to see a dozen of six and eight horse establishments in the streets at the same time, presenting a sight of richness and splendor worth looking upon, and a luxury that any one would envy those who are fortunate enough to make up the parties that so often fill them.

YOUR BABIES NOT MY BABIES.—About 35 years ago, there resided in the town of Hebron, a certain Dr. T., who became very much enamoured of a beautiful young lady in the same town. In due course of time they were engaged to be married. The doctor was a strong and decided Presbyterian, and his lady-love as strong and decided a Baptist. They were sitting together one evening, talking of their approaching nuptials, when the doctor remarked—"I am thinking, my dear, of two events, which I shall number among the happiest of my life.' 'And pray, what may they be, doctor?' asked the lady. 'One is the hour when I shall call you my wife for the first time.' 'And the other, if you please?' 'It is when we shall present our first-born for baptism.' 'What sprinkled?' 'Yes, my dear sprinkled.' 'Never shall a child of mine be sprinkled!' 'Every child of mine shall be sprinkled.' 'Shall be, sir?' 'Yes, my love.' 'Well sir, I can tell you then, that your babies won't be my babies.' So, good night sir.' The lady left the room, and the doctor left the house. The sequel to this true story was that the doctor never married, and the lady is an old maid.

"Rome to America."

WASHINGTON NATIONAL MONUMENT OFFICE, } Feb. 4, 1852. }

The following correspondence, relating to a block of marble which his holiness, the Pope, proposes to furnish for the National Monument, was ordered to be published by the Board of Managers:

LEGATION DES ETATS UNIS D'AMERIQUE, } PRES LE SAINT SIEGE, Rome, Dec. 24, 1851. }

SIR: I have the honor to inform you that I have been apprised by his Holiness the Pope, that Cardinal Antonelli, the Sec'y of State of the Roman Government, of his intention to contribute a block of marble toward the erection of the National Monument to the memory of Washington. The block was taken from the ruins of the ancient Temple of Peace, as joining the Palace of the Cæsars and is to receive the inscription "Rome to America." And as soon as the work is completed, the necessary measures will be taken to forward it to you.

I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

LEWIS CASS, JR.

Addressed to the Secretary of the National Monument Society, Washington.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Feb. 4, 1852.

SIR,—Your letter of the 24th December last, informing me that you had been "apprized by his Holiness, the Pope, through Cardinal Antonelli, the Secretary of State of the Roman Government, of his intention to contribute a block of marble toward the erection of the National Monument to the memory of Washington," has been laid before the Board of Managers of the Washington National Monument Society of this City, and they have instructed me to communicate, through you, to his Holiness, the Pope, their sincere gratification at the information thus furnished of his intention to contribute a block of marble from the ruins of the Temple of Peace, at Rome, to be placed in the monument now in the course of erection in honor of the illustrious Washington.

I am requested to assure you that it will be not only interesting but acceptable as an offering from "Rome to America;" and especially so as forming a part of an ancient structure, and dedicated to Peace, in the vicinity of the Palace of the Cæsars, to be placed in juxtaposition with blocks of stone which have been presented by the modern and free States of the American Confederacy. It will be regarded as a manifestation of respect paid to patriotism and virtue, to the name and character of one whom the civilized world holds in the highest estimation, and to a nation whose annals he has rendered glorious.

The monument now in course of erection will, it is believed, from its magnificence, do honor to the great patriot and statesman, as well as to his countrymen, by whose voluntary contributions it is to be erected.

The Board of Managers respectfully request you to tender their thanks to his Holiness for his very acceptable contribution, and to inform him that it shall be placed in a conspicuous position in the monument.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your, obedient servant,

GEO. WATTERSTON, Secretary.

LEWIS CASS, JR., U. S. Charge d'Affairs, Rome.

Jenny Lind's Marriage.

The "HOME JOURNAL" has the following upon JENNY LIND and her marriage:

"An engraving ordered upon the inside of at wedding ring—Otto Goldschmidt to Jenny Lind—gave the news of a certain event to "Ball, Tompkins & Black," a week before it was telegraphed to the papers. Jewellers keep secrets. The ring went to its destiny, unwhispered of. In spring, (for it is fastened with a spring) has closed over the blue vein that has so oft carried to that third finger the news of the heart's refusal or surrender. Jenny Lind loves. She who filled more place in the world, a knowledge and attention than Sweden itself—the Swede greater than Sweden—has acknowledged "the small sweet need woman to be loved." Her star-name, which she had spent half a life, with energy unequalled, in placing bright and alone in the heaven of renown, is merged after all in the Virgilian of common humanity. "Jenny Lind" is a wife.

A year or more ago, Jenny Lind stood by the cradle of a sleeping and beautiful infant. She looked at it, long and thoughtfully, stooped and kissed its heel and the back of its neck, (the Swedish geography, we believe, for a kiss with a blessing to a child,) and, turning to its mother, said, with a deep sigh. 'You have something to live for!' She was, at this time, in the busiest tumult of a welcome by half a world. Her ambition—so abhrst from the first dawn of her mind that it seemed to have absorbed her entire being—had a full cup at its lips. She was with unblemished repute, the most renowned of living women, and with the fortune and moral power of a queen. Yet, up from the heart under it all—a heart so deep down under pyramids of golden laurels—the outmost approach to which was apparently hidden in clouds of incense—comes a sigh over the cradle of a child.

We are sorry we can give our far-away readers no assistance in their efforts to form an idea of the Nightingale's mate. Ladies are good observers, and one who remembers to have looked to see the effect of Jenny Lind's compliment, on the new comer, tells us he was "a pale, thin, dreamy, poetical-looking youth." He will soon be seen and described, however, if we progress fire; but meantime, if we were to give a guess at the sort of a man he is, we should begin with one probability—that he is the most unworldly, unaffected and truth-loving, of all the mates that have ever offered to fold wing beside her. With what she has seen of the world and of the stuff for husbands, Jenny had probably come round to whence she started—choosing, like a child, by the instinct of the heart. Her Otto-biography will show how wisely.

The interest in Jenny Lind's marriage is as varied as it is tender and respectful. There is scarce a woman in the land, probably, who, if she felt at liberty to do so, would not send her a bridal token. But there is more than a sisterly well-wishing, in the general excitement among her own sex on the subject. The power, in one person of trying, purely and to such completeness, the two experiments for happiness—love and fame—was interesting enough; but it is strange and exciting to see the usual order reversed, fame first, and love afterwards. To turn unsatisfied from love to fame, has been a common transit in the history of gifted women. To turn unsatisfied from fame to love—and that, too, with no volatile caprice of disappointment, but with fame's most brimming cup fairly won and fully tasted—is a novelty indeed. Simple every day love, with such experience on the heart's record before it, has never been pictured, even in poetry.

Jenny Lind has genius and the impulses and sensibilities of genius are an eternal Spring. She is more right and wise than would seem probable at a first glance, in marrying one younger than herself. The Summer and Autumn of a heart that observes the common Seasons of life, will pass and leave her the younger. Her prospect for happiness seems to us, indeed, all brightness.—The "world without" well tried, and found wanting—public esteem wherever she may be, and fortune ample and of her own winning—the tastes of both bride and bridegroom cultured for delightful appreciation, and the lessons of the school of adversity in the memory of both—it seems as if "circumstances" that responsible committee of happiness, could scarce do more.—Frau Goldschmidt will be happier than Jenny Lind, we venture to predict. God bless her!

A PUZZLER.—A Clergyman at Portland, while writing a sermon the other day, occasionally erasing a sentence which he desired to improve, was interrupted by his little son of three years—

"Father, does God tell you what to preach?"

"Certainly my child."

"Then what makes you scratch it out?

PRESSED, FIRE-PROOF TILING.

CERTIFICATES OF RECOMMENDATION.

BY the present, I attest my entire satisfaction with the roof of my house, covered with the pressed, fire proof Tile, invented by Mr Graessle, having found them perfectly secure against the storms, rains, wind and intense cold I hereby take occasion to recommend said roofing to everyone wishing to build, as I consider it the most durable and economical roofing I have ever seen

ENNO MEYER,

Druggist, 374 W Water st, 2nd ward

Milwaukee, Feb 3, 1852

The above I found true in every respect, as to the roof of my house, covered with the same tile, invented by Mr Graessle

ANGELT KREIG,

Brewer, Chestnut st, 2nd ward

The undersigned, having carefully examined the pressed roofing Tiles, invented by Mr Graessle, have found them perfectly answering the purpose intended Their practical and ingenious construction recommend this kind of Tile, not only as a fire proof and perfectly water proof covering, but above all for its durability The ridges and channels not only exclude the entering of snow or rain-water, but, by their firm and precise joining of one into the other, they give to the single Tile as well as to the whole covering an absolutely movable position and an intimate connection Besides this, Mr Gra ssle's method of burning the Tiles, deprives them of the injurious tendency to absorb water, making them in this way durable, and joining to the above another virtue, viz. that of dispensing with repairs The undersigned therefore consider ourselves fully justified in recommending to the building community the above roofing Tile as an excellent and valuable material

Also 150 acres timbered land.

Farms No. 4 and 5 have each an orchard of grafted apple trees, selections of choice varieties of fruit.

Said farms are mostly prairie with oak openings. Surface, diversified with plains and undulations. Remarkably well watered with spring branches, Bear Creek, and Pine and Wisconsin rivers. Soil, a mixture of sand, clay and loam, adapted to wheat, corn, barley, and all grains of the climate, and particularly for grazing. English grasses flourish and yield large crops. The extensive range of prairie and natural meadows, with an abundance of pure water, afford the most favorable opportunities for Dairy, Stock-Raising & Wool-Growing.

Said farms are situated from one to three miles from Richland City, (on the Wisconsin river,) in a section of country unsurpassed for healthiness.

The Timbered Lands are choice selections, and are situated along the Wisconsin and Pine rivers, and from one-half to two miles from the Village, where a favorable opportunity (from the abundance of good water timber, the price of lumber, and the facilities for market,) is offered for a profitable investment in manufacturing lumber by steam power.

☞ Said Timbered Lands will be sold in tracts to suit purchasers. GARWOOD GREENE,

ARRANGEMENTS FOR 1852.

AS the season for emigration approaches, we beg to acquaint our friends and the public with our Arrangements for the year 1852, and would inform them, that with an increase of business—for which we are grateful—we are placed in possession of greater facilities for conducting the Emigration and Foreign Exchange Business than any other House in the World, and for which—in a great measure—we have to thank a discerning public for their continued patronage.

Since the commencement of last year a large number of magnificent ships have been added to the various popular lines for which we are the Agents, and several others are now in course of construction, all of which will be fitted up for passengers in the most superior manner, and commanded by men of long experience.

In ordering our Stoves to the community, we do so with the full assurance that we can supply better articles than can be purchased at any other place, being entirely new patterns, manufactured with care and from the very best materials. The following list of patterns is offered with the confidence that they will give satisfaction in every particular, viz:

THE ECONOMIST

DOUBLE OVEN COOKING STOVE,

(Which received the First Premium at the State Fair, lately held at Janesville.)

Possesses great advantages over every other stove, for plain flues and direct application of heat, being so arranged that one or both ovens can be used at pleasure. It will cook in half the time of any other stove now in use, and with half the fuel, not consuming over four cords of wood in one year.

The TRIUMPH, single oven, taken in long wood, is an excellent stove—one that has been well tested, and given general satisfaction.

The PREMIUM is different in its construction from any other made, in the arrangement of the fire back—acknowledged to be a great improvement.

The KING PARLOR is adapted to either wood or coal, is an elevated, in a neat arrangement ever offered to the public, having all the convenience of the stove combined with the beauties of the open grate. It is beautifully ornamental, highly polished, and perfect in every respect—the entire front above the sliding doors being covered or closed with three doors, and so arranged that when open they are completely out of sight. It is equally adapted to chairs as well as parlors.

The RADIATOR is the best coal stove ever got up as a radiator of heat.

Persons purchasing their stoves of us in the event of any of the plates getting broke, can at all times be supplied with extra ones, thus superseding the necessity of throwing away stoves which many are daily compelled to do in buying the Eagle ware.

Those who are in want of an articles in our line, will find it to their advantage to give us a call, before purchasing elsewhere, as we are confident that we can give satisfaction in all cases. City references given, where our stoves can be seen in operation. Stoves delivered and set up in any part of the city, free of charge. All orders promptly attended to.
